ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

The Court is in receipt of Plaintiffs' complaint, which was filed by James Aggrey-Kweggyir Arunga (hereinafter "Mr. Arunga") on June 10, 2016.<sup>1</sup> On the face of the complaint, multiple grounds could exist for dismissal under Rule 12(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for failing to comply with Rule 8 and 9 of the same. For example, Plaintiffs fail to articulate a justiciable claim in the complaint. Further, there exists no reason to believe that the Court has subject matter or personal jurisdiction to entertain the allegations contained within the complaint. Plaintiffs are hereby given NOTICE that the Court has identified issues fatal to the cause of action and are ORDERED to show cause within 21 days as to why the complaint should not be dismissed and summons be issued.

Signed on this 14th day of June, 2016.

 Ignacio Torteya, III
 United States Magistrate Judge

DCAAppendix-A

<sup>1</sup> The complaint includes multiple government entity plaintiffs whom are reportedly represented by Mr. Arunga. Mr. Arunga seemingly is neither a lawyer nor affiliated with the government in any capacity. The Court advises Mr. Arunga that impersonating an officer or employee of the United States government, as well as the unauthorized practice of law, are punishable offenses.

ON AFFIDAVIT: a). Arunga declares that a 10-page maundering gibbirish marked and herein attached, Appendix A-25, is rejected as moot and objected to as nothing; imparting contortively concerted designed purjury, judicial finagling in some form of spurious actions--threats and intimidations employed by partydefendants and partyhired SPECIALCOUNSEL, IGNACIO TORTEYA, III as amended deft. herein, to obtruct justice in this proceeding.

b). Thus, defendants-appellees are now on NOTICE that they, retroactively, in 18-yearsof partydemocractsadministrations and within 7+current years of Barack Hussein Obama-Joseph Robanette Biden-Hillary Rodham/Rodham-Clintons imperial administration(s), premeditated and carried and continue to carry out Treasons' Actions, national-international political-financial finaglings in bribes, moneylaunderingschemes; corruptions, by illegally operating businesses of corrupt conflicts; polltax/bribing partydemocractsSUPERDELEGATES; nationalrigged elections by primary fixed corruptions-electors; email/damnemails scandals; private/privateserverscandals; SCOUTUS corrupting dictum expulsionjudiciaryfinagling-fuzes; Obama-Biden-Clintons delusional-legislative/imperial-directives-fuzes. - d). Similarly, Arunga declares that 18 previous and 7+current years of Carter-Clintons-Obama-Biden partydemocratic administrations; partydemocratic SCOUTUS forum of Ginsburg-Breyer-Kegan engaged and contortively continue to engage in unAmerican Government of Executive-Judicial-and-Reid Political legislative and Financial ~~Financial~~ ~~gulings~~. TRIO'S REQUESTS FOR HELP FROM MADAM SECRETARY, WERE PUT ON HOLD UN-ANSWERED; THEN, WERE DIRECTED TO SOME CYBER'S AGENCY'S AGENTS WITH INSTRUCTIONS TO RETAIN THEM IN THEIR MOST HIDDENWAYS, SUBJECT TO BE DESTROYED, BY ORDER FROM William Jefferson, Hillary Rodham Clintons and Clintons' associates, who by monitoring UN-SECURE(D) PRIVATE SERVER'S TECHS, SAID DEFENDANTS-APPELLEES LET THE TERRORISTS HACK AND LISTEN TO THE ENTIRE BENGHAZI DEATHS-PLOTS AGAINST CHRIS-SEAN-CHARLES TO TRIO HEINOUS EXECUTIONS, BY TERRORISTS-HACKERS, INHERENTLY SUSPECTED AS "MOSLEM BROTHERS" AND THEIR WORLDWIDE CONNECTED TERRORISTS. NOTE: The Honorable James Comey, FBI Director, is legally and politically, right to announce that "THE CLINTONS' EMAIL INVESTIGATION(S)" is, on discovered material subject matter, opened as said "Hillary damnmails pertain to the Rodham-Clintons political finagling(s).

Moreover, the Hillary emails and Rodham-Clintons' other political material documents were requested by United States Congress' Committees; either to clear you from whatever your political business you had (not to conflict with the United States business of the Secretary of State) yet, you resisted, twisted and abused the immunities given to your associates, by hiding and or shredding the information you were asked to produce, time and time again!

Am troubled that you claim you are college-bred; read at professional schools, yet to this day of November 01, 2016, you and your other organized criminal, Harry Reid, cannot produce one single evidence that either Huma nor Weiner, was appointed by Obama-Biden; had before Senate Judicial Committee; and, confirmed by the United States Senate to serve as government officer in the State Department, and concurrently, as Bill, Hillary Clinton Foundation's executive. Instead, you were involved in selling U.S. National Security, under unsecure PrSec, to ENEMIES. Crime against the United States Government was committed. When Huma Weiner were in possessions of Emails pertaining to the Clintons, which, said emails were under official ORDER, should have been disclosed to either FBI Team's investigators or to the United States House-Senate Committees conducting the Bill and Hillary Clintons' emails' POLITICAL-FINANCIAL FINAGLINGS AND SCANDALS.

CLINTONS' DON'T SAY...DON'T TELL IS YOUR invented idolatry doctrine you came up with, between yourselves, while you were in Arkansas; in lieu of taking 5th Amendment.

CLINTON-RODHAM/RODHAM-CLINTON(WILLIAMJEFFERSONCLINTON-HILLARY D.RODHAM/RODHAM-CLINTON) DON'T SAY...DON'T TELL DOCTRINE you designed, covers your immoral and illegal Haman-Zeresh vicious ways of your life; your vexatious contortive corruptions; your rear ends rattling carnal behaviourish oral ONANISM; orgy CIGARSMELLY clan composite Alicia, you hired to continue to destroy American young women and their grand parents, who now question you and Alia; who asked Alia to enter MsUniverse...? did she know the requirements to maintain MsUniverse business; Clintons, you paid off Alicia with CIGAR-stuck in her fatloins, to intentionally humiliate TRUMP'S DAUGHTERS! For you Bill, Hillary Rodham-Clinton/Clinton-Rodham hardly operated successful businesses. True American provides the American people with jobs; provides women independent businesses; good wife; good mother; caring their siblings; caring daughter of her parents; say, Clintons, you depend on kickbacks; prey on United States monies for traveling, security expenses, spreading your rear ends rattling-raising funds to finance non United States Citizens and illegals to harass and illegally participate in the American Elections; you ARE loaded with political-financial finaglings; that, the world reads about you and Barack Hussein Obama-Joseph Robinette-Harry Reid-Tim Kaine as HAMAN-ZERESH USURPATION composite life threats to deaths of Chris-Sean-Charles that you were involved. THE TRUTH: 2012-OBAMA ARE ELECTION AND YOUR 2016-ELECTION are not about American Politics but, OBSTRUCTIONS OF JUSTICE-COVER UPS your committed HCRIMES. Few months ago, you hired another terrorist idiot to tell American people that he knows how to read the United States Constitution. Question, when did Bill, Hillary and their siblings read the United States constitutionality as related to mandatory military draft, and or voluntary military draft. At the age of 22 years old Ivanka's Dad, the then, constitutionally responded to the United States Mandatory Military Draft, and at no time did he run/hide; except, according to the Military code requirements, United States will not keep an American child active in the Military if said draftee, naturally, has other health problem; thus, is not blameable, selah! Donald was discharged from the military. Horribly, I too responded to mandatory draft, willingly, to train for Airforce, only to be told that I had passed the age, and that I was a foreign student from Kenya, still pursuing my education in the United. When Khon'son chose to join the United States Military, he did not tell his parents all the verbiage that we have heard. He knew he was joining a United States Military; CHOICE his life to defend his country and the innocents. He was 100% going to fight for the PEACE against terrorists and the United States ENEMIES. COUNT BILL, HILLARY CLINTONS' BRIBES, IMMORAL CORRUPTIONS, MILITARY OF MONEY LAUNDERING INTO BILL, HILLARY Clinton's Foundation/DNC for your personal use and at the expenses of the United States Government.

Hillary, you have rattled hoaring to the American blacks that you are for them; stood to deliver heresy to blacks podium, in North Carolina; your delusions' heresy; the Haitian JUU caught up with them. To wit, in 1968, when Democrats best Ticket of Humphrey-Muskie was on the match in consistent with Thurgood-King-Brookes-LBJ-JFK-RFK, you were a Democrat among others, traveling in hired Trailways Buses in the states of Virginia, North Carolina, South Calina, Georgia and others, accompanied with bribed young blacks, went knocking doors or homes of every black family in those states, telling them not to vote for the Humphrey-Muskie Democratic Ticket...a Civil Rights Ticket. Hillary, I was hoping that when you took a podium in black Church, in North Carolina, the other day, you will tell those black people you deceived betrayed blacks in 1968-Presidential election. Also, as converted Democrats, you betrayed the Humphrey-Muskie from being elected. You continue to cover up as to how much they have been deceived by your snaking politics. ## Judge Peter McBrien found to violate the Judicial Code of Ethics on four counts

June 30, 10:17 AM LA Family Courts Examiner Laura Lynn

The Commission on Judicial Performance Special Masters' Report found Judge Peter McBrien of Sacramento violated the Judicial Code of Ethics on four counts in regards to a family law matter.

A copy of the full report, 147 pages can be emailed by request to this reporter at Bohemian\_books@yahoo.com or by contacting the CJP.

A summary of the charges included:

Judge McBrien terminated a trial in the middle of a parties case-in-chief, without giving the party a chance to complete the presentation of evidence or offer rebuttal evidence, and denied that party his constitutional right to due process and a fair trial.

Judge McBrien threatened an attorney with contempt if the client asserted his Fifth Amendment rights and declined to produce evidence that was not relevant to the pending matter.

Judge McBrien became embroiled in the case, offering a partial transcript to a party's employer. The party lost his employment due to the acts which were presented. The judge did not tell the parties of his action, nor recuse himself.

Judge McBrien was discourteous and addressed an attorney in a derogatory manner.

Due to the length of the findings, this story will be presented as a series.

Split vote a 'no' to Obama's immigration plans

The 4-4 tie keeps in place a lower court ruling and effectively kills Obama's reform program

BY MARK SHERMAN
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A short-handed and deeply divided Supreme Court deadlocked Thursday on President Obama's immigration plan to help millions living in the United States illegally, effectively killing the plan for the rest of his presidency and raising the stakes even further for the November elections. The hotly debated direction of America's national immigration policy, as well as the balance of power on the high court, now will be determined in large part by the presidential and congressional elections. Immigration and the court vacancy created by Justice Antonin Scalia's death in February already were featuring in the campaign.

Scalia's vote most likely would have meant an outright ruling against Obama's immigration expansion rather than the 4-4 tie, a much more significant defeat for the president and immigrant advocates.

Democrat Hillary Clinton declared that as president she would work to restore the programs and go further. Republican Donald Trump said he would make sure Obama's "unconstitutional actions" never came back.

The tie is not likely to lead to an increase in deportations since the president retains ample discretion to decide whom to deport. But the ruling stymies his effort to bring people "out from the shadows" by giving them the right to work legally in the United States.

One of the Obama programs would have protected the parents of children who are in the country legally. The other was an expansion of a program that benefits people who were brought to the United States as children. Obama decided to move forward on his own after Republicans won control of the Senate in 2014 and the chances for an immigration overhaul, already remote, were further damaged.

Obama said Thursday's impasse "takes us further from the country we aspire to be."

The candidates vying to replace him split as plainly as the justices.

Clinton, the presumptive Democratic nominee, said that if she is elected she will defend the Obama programs "and do everything possible under the law to go further to protect families."

Republican Trump, on the other hand, said the court outcome "blocked one of the most unconstitutional actions ever undertaken by a president" and the split decision "makes clear what's at stake in November."

And the people directly affected?

Mexican immigrant Cristina Molina of New York City said she was frustrated and upset.

"I feel like I'm in limbo," Molina, 48, said through an interpreter.

She has lived in the United States for 23 years and said she would have been eligible for one of the programs Obama announced in 2014.

A Supreme Court tie sets no national precedent but leaves in place a ruling by a lower court. The justices issued a one-sentence opinion, with no further comment.

A full nine-justice court agreed to hear the case in January, but by the time of the arguments in late April, Scalia had died. That left eight justices to decide the case, and the court presumably split along liberal-conservative lines, although no breakdown was announced.

Penis pump judge gets 4-year jail term

Posted 8/18/2006 2:50 PM ET

Former Oklahoma district judge Donald Thompson, shown in this June 29 photo, was found guilty on four counts of indecent exposure. The jury recommended a sentence of one year in prison and a $10,000 fine on each count.

BRISTOW, Okla. (AP) — A former judge convicted of exposing himself while presiding over jury trials by using a sexual device under his robe was sentenced Friday to four years in prison.

Donald Thompson had spent almost 23 years on the bench and had served as a state legislator before retiring from the court in 2004. He showed no reaction when he was sentenced.

At his trial this summer, his former court reporter, Lisa Foster, testified that she saw Thompson expose himself at least 15 times during trial between 2001 and 2003. Prosecutors said he also used a device known as a penis pump during at least four trials in the same period.

Thompson, 59, was convicted last month of four felony counts of indecent exposure for incidents that took place in his Creek County courtroom.

Thompson, a married father of three grown children, testified that the penis pump was given to him as a joke by a longtime hunting and fishing buddy.

"It wasn't something I was hiding," he said.

He said he may have absentmindedly squeezed the pump's handle during court cases but never used it to masturbate.

Foster told authorities that she saw Thompson use the device almost daily during the August 2003 murder trial of a man accused of shaking a toddler to death. A whooshing sound could be heard on Foster's audiotape of the trial. When jurors asked the judge about the sound, Thompson said he hadn't heard it but would listen for it.

Police built a case against the judge after a police officer testifying in a 2003 murder trial saw a piece of plastic tubing disappear under Thompson's robe. During a lunch break, officers took photographs of the pump under the desk.

Investigators later checked the carpet, Thompson's robes and the chair behind the bench and found semen, according to court records.

Former ACLU chief admits guilt

Sentenced to 8 years for having 'graphic and violent' child porn

Posted: June 01, 2007

5:55 pm Eastern

WorldNetDaily.com

A former executive for the American Civil Liberties Union of Virginia has been sentenced to eight years in prison after he admitted having "graphic and violent" child pornography.

The guilty plea was entered in court in Virginia by Charles Rust-Tierney, where he was immediately sentenced, according to a report today from WJLA television.

Rust-Tierney previously had served as the president of the Virginia chapter of the ACLU, and admitted his guilt under a plea bargain. He had been in jail since his arrest earlier this year, because two separate judges in pretrial hearings had rejected his request for freedom, describing the pornography as some of the most sickening they ever had encountered.

It was Rust-Tierney who, nearly 10 years ago, had argued before the Loudoun County Library Board against any Internet filters on the computers at the public facility.

The library, which had been using filters on its computers, was ordered to change its policy by a federal court.

"The ACLU of Virginia urges the board to carefully consider a new Internet Use Policy that allows for maximum Internet access....," he said at the time.

He encouraged the library board to recognize "that individuals will continue to behave responsibly and appropriately while in the library," so therefore "the default should be maximum, unrestricted access to ... the Internet."

Prosecutors said Rust-Tierney, who also served as a youth league sports coach in the area, actually downloaded the materials on a computer in his son's bedroom at home.

Declaration of Independence

Action of Second Continental Congress, July 4, 1776

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION of the thirteen united STATES OF AMERICA,

WHEN in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.—He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.—He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.—He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.—He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance.—He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:—For Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:—For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:—For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.—He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.—In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.—Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren: We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

The Court is in receipt of Plaintiffs' complaint, which was filed by James Aggrey-Kweggyir Arunga (hereinafter "Mr. Arunga") on June 10, 2016.<sup>1</sup> On the face of the complaint, multiple grounds could exist for dismissal under Rule 12(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for failing to comply with Rule 8 and 9 of the same. For example, Plaintiffs fail to articulate a justiciable claim in the complaint. Further, there exists no reason to believe that the Court has subject matter or personal jurisdiction to entertain the allegations contained within the complaint. Plaintiffs are hereby given NOTICE that the Court has identified issues fatal to the cause of action and are ORDERED to show cause within 21 days as to why the complaint should not be dismissed and summons be issued.

Signed on this 14th day of June, 2016.

The Danger of a Failed Iran Deal

Iran criticizes new U.S. visa rule

TEHRAN, Iran — A new United States restriction on travel without visas targeting Europeans and others who have visited so-called high-risk countries has led to angry reactions in Iran, where some leaders say the decision is a violation of the nuclear agreement reached in July.

Mohammad Javad Zarif, Iran's foreign minister, told state media on Monday that visa restriction was an "obstacle, placed by some individuals," that he hoped would soon be resolved. Zarif referred to a letter sent by Secretary of State John Kerry on Saturday, asserting that the restriction would not affect the nuclear agreement.

The letter, obtained and leaked by the National Iranian American Council, an advocacy group based in Washington, hinted that President Obama would use his executive authority to exempt Iran from the visa restriction, which was passed almost unanimously in Congress. Obama signed it into law on Friday.

The restriction, a security step arising from the recent terrorist attacks, prohibits visa-free travel to the United States for anyone who has visited or holds citizenship in Syria, Iraq, Sudan and Iran.

1998 United States embassy bombings

from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In the 1998 U.S. Embassy bombings (August 7, 1998) hundreds of people were killed in simultaneous truck bomb explosions at the United States embassies in the major East African cities of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania and Nairobi, Kenya. The attacks, linked to local members of the Egyptian Islamic Jihad brought Osama bin Laden and Ayman al-Zawahiri to American attention for the first time, and resulted in the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation placing bin Laden on its Ten Most Wanted list.

Motivation and preparation

The bombings are widely (and falsely) believed to have been revenge for American involvement in the extradition, and alleged torture, of four members of Egyptian Islamic Jihad (EIJ) who had been arrested in Albania in the two months prior to the explosions and extradited to Egypt.<sup>[1]</sup> On June 28, Ahmed Ibrahim Assyed al-Najr, believed to be the militant group's commander in Albania, was arrested along with compatriot Majed Mustapha. With the help of the CIA, they were extradited to Egypt. In July, Mohammad Hassan, leader of the Foundation for Rebirth of Islamic Heritage, was arrested in Tirana and similarly extradited to Egypt. The following month, a communique was issued warning the United States that a "response" was being prepared to repay them for their interference.<sup>[2][3]</sup> Given that preparations for the embassy bombings began before the albanian arrests (see later), this explanation can be discounted, however.

According to journalist Lawrence Wright, the Nairobi operation was named after the Holy Kaaba in Mecca; the Dar es Salaam bombing was called Operation al-Aqsa in Jerusalem, but "neither had an obvious connection to the American embassies in Africa. Bin Laden initially said that the sites had been targeted because of the "invasion" of Somalia; then he described an American plan to partition Sudan, which he said was hatched in the embassy in Nairobi. He also told his followers that the genocide in Rwanda had been planned inside the two American embassies."

APPENDIX-F: 11 OF 26

Wright concludes that none of these claims made sense, and that bin Laden's actual goal was "to lure the Aftermath at the Nairobi embassy.

A Nissan Atlas truck, similar to that used in Dar es-Salaam

Perhaps to support this timeline, Berntsen also falsely claims that another bomber, Mohamed al-Owhali, is arrested on August 15 when in fact he is arrested three days earlier. (United States of America v. Usama Bin Laden, et al., Day 38 5/2/2001; Berntsen and Pezzullo 2005) Odeh's Confession and Other Al-Qaeda Evidence Kept Secret for Days - Publicly, the US does not link any evidence from the bombing to al-Qaeda until August 17, when Odeh's confession is finally mentioned in front page news stories. Even then, the story is based on accounts from Pakistani officials and US officials say they cannot confirm it. (Constable and Khan 8/17/1998) In fact, there is a wealth of information immediately tying al-Qaeda to the bombings that is kept secret, including wiretaps of many of the bombers (see April 1996 and May 1998), informants in the cell (see Before August 7, 1998), and even a statement of responsibility that was intercepted hours before the bombings had occurred (see August 5-7, 1998).

Bombings of the Nairobi, Kenya, US embassy (left); and the Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, US embassy (right). [Source: Associated Press] (click image to enlarge)

Two US embassies in Africa are bombed within minutes of each other. At 10:35, local time, a suicide car bomb attack in Nairobi, Kenya, kills 213 people, including 12 US nationals, and injures more than 4,500. Mohamed al-Owhali and someone known only as Azzam are the suicide bombers, but al-Owhali runs away at the last minute and survives. Four minutes later, a suicide car bomb attack in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, kills 11 and injures 85. The attacks are blamed on al-Qaeda. Hamden Khalif Allah Awad is the suicide bomber there. (PBS Frontline 2001; United States of America v. Usama Bin Laden, et al., Day 38 5/2/2001) The Tanzania death toll is low because, remarkably, the attack takes place on a national holiday so the US embassy there is closed. (Miller, Stone, and Mitchell 2002, pp. 195) The attack shows al-Qaeda has a capability for simultaneous attacks. The Tanzania bombing appears to have been a late addition, as one of the arrested bombers allegedly told US agents that it was added to the plot only about 10 days in advance. (United State of America v. Usama bin Laden, et al., Day 14 3/7/2001) A third attack against the US embassy in Uganda does not take place due to a last minute delay (see August 7, 1998). (Associated Press 9/25/1998) August 7, 1998, is the eighth anniversary of the arrival of US troops in Saudi Arabia, and some speculate that is the reason for the date of the bombings. (Gunaratna 2003, pp. 46) In the 2002 book The Cell, reporters John Miller, Michael Stone, and Chris Miller will write, "What has become clear with time is that facets of the East Africa plot had been known beforehand to the FBI, the CIA, the State Department, and to Israeli and Kenyan intelligence services.... [N]o one can seriously argue that the horrors of August 7, 1998, couldn't have been prevented." They will also comment, "Inexplicable as the intelligence failure was, more baffling still was that al-Qaeda correctly presumed that a major attack could be carried out by a cell that US agents had already uncovered." (Miller, Stone, and Mitchell 2002, pp. 195, 206) After 9/11, it will come to light that three of the alleged hijackers, Khalid Almhndhar, Nawaf Alhazmi, and Salem Alhazmi, had some involvement in the bombings (see October 4, 2001, Late 1999, and 1993-1999) and that the US intelligence community was aware of this involvement by late 1999 (see December 15-31, 1999), if not before.

United States into Afghanistan, which had long been called 'The Graveyard of Empires.'<sup>[4]</sup> According to a 1998 memo authored by Mohammed Atef and seized by the FBI, around the time of the attacks, al-Qaeda had both an interest in and specific knowledge of negotiations between the Taliban and the American-led gas pipeline consortium CentGas.<sup>[5]</sup>

In May 1998 a villa in Nairobi was purchased by one of the bombers for the purpose of accommodating bomb building in the garage. Ahmad Salim Swedan purchased a beige Toyota Dyna truck in Nairobi, and a 1987 Nissan Atlas refrigeration truck in Dar es-Salaam. Six metal bars were used to form a "cage" on the back of the Atlas, to accommodate the bomb.<sup>[6]</sup>

In June 1998, KK Mohamed rented House 213 in the Ilala district of Dar es Salaam, about four miles from the U.S. Embassy. A white Suzuki Samurai was used to haul bomb components hidden in rice sacks from House 213.

In both Nairobi and Dar es Salaam, Mohammed Odeh supervised construction of two massive, 2,000-pound destructive devices. The Nairobi bomb was made of 400 to 500 cylinders of TNT (about the size of soda cans), aluminum nitrate, aluminum powder and detonating cord. The explosives were packed into some twenty specially designed wooden crates that were sealed and then placed in the bed of the trucks. Abdel Rahman ran a wire from the bomb to a set of batteries in the back of the truck cab and then to a detonator switch beneath the dashboard.<sup>[6]</sup> The Dar es Salaam bomb used a slightly different construction: the TNT was attached to fifteen oxygen tanks and gas canisters, and was surrounded with four bags of ammonium nitrate fertilizer and some sand bags to tamp and direct the blast.<sup>[7]</sup>

The bombings were scheduled for August 7, the eighth anniversary of the arrival of American troops in Saudi Arabia, ostensibly a deliberate choice by Osama bin Laden.<sup>[8]</sup>

Attacks and casualties

PARTY DEMOCRATSSUPERDELEGATES
INELIGIBLE U.S. SENATE SEATS ARE NAMED

As = ① Catherine Cortez Masto

NEVADA DEMOCRAT

APPENDIX-F: 16 OF 26

Democrat Catherine Cortez Masto's victory in the Nevada Senate race is groundbreaking for the Silver State.

She is the first woman to represent Nevada in the Senate and the first Latino woman in the chamber's history. Her paternal grandfather immigrated to Nevada from Chihuahua, Mexico.

The former two-term attorney general replaces retiring Senate Democratic leader Harry Reid. Losing the seat would have been a devastating blow for Democrats, though even with this win they did not take control of the Senate.

Cortez Masto, 52, ran an aggressive campaign based on foundational Democratic policy proposals — raising the minimum wage, protecting Social Security and Medicare, and passing comprehensive immigration reform.

As attorney general, she is perhaps best known for negotiating the settlement with bankers over illegal mortgage practices that brought billions to underwater California homeowners. She is also known as an expert on tackling recidivism — she wrote a book, Smart on Crime, about it — and making parents responsible for truant children. As district attorney of San Francisco city and county, she was known for antagonizing local police when she declined to seek the death penalty for a cop killer in 2004, her first year in office.

Harris is also known to have a good relationship with departing President Obama, who once described her as "by far the best-looking attorney general in the country."

Unlike the outspoken Boxer she's replacing, Harris has been called cautious. Asked at the only general election debate last month what committee assignments she'll seek, for example, she said she was concentrating on the election and wouldn't look beyond it.

Maggie Hassan

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRAT

Democrat Maggie Hassan eked out a win to unseat incumbent Republican Kelly Ayotte in one of the tightest races in the country.

Hassan, 58, has been governor of New Hampshire since 2013, and before that, she was a state senator for six years, including a stint as majority leader before losing re-election in 2010.

APPENDIX-F: 17 OF 26

During her tenure as governor, Hassan maintained high job approval ratings, with a Morning Consult poll earlier this year gauging her support 56% favorable and only 33% unfavorable.

She campaigned for Senate on a pledge to work across the aisle to make Washington work better for middle-class Americans and touted her prior record in New Hampshire, where she froze tuition at state universities and lowered it at community colleges and passed two budgets without raising sales or income taxes.

A lawyer by trade, Hassan started in public service as an advocate for special-needs children after the eldest of her two children, Ben, now 28, was born with cerebral palsy. Her campaign said she was driven to "ensure that children like her son Ben, who experiences severe disabilities, would be fully included in their communities and have the same opportunities that all parents want for their children."

⑤ Chris Van Hollen

MARYLAND DEMOCRAT

Sooner or later, Chris Van Hollen was going to be a U.S. senator.

The six-term congressman from Maryland literally grew up in government. Van Hollen was born in Pakistan, where his father was serving in the foreign service, and lived in several foreign outposts as a child. His father ultimately served as U.S. ambassador to Sri Lanka and the Maldives. Van Hollen did his graduate studies at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government, where he met his wife, Katherine, and they both wound up with jobs on Capitol Hill.

APPENDIX-F: 18 OF 26

First elected to Congress on his own in 2002, Van Hollen quickly moved up the ladder of leadership among House Democrats. He led the Democrats' House campaign operation for the 2008 and 2010 election cycles.

Clinton claims collapse under FBI probe

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Key assertions by Hillary Clinton in defense of her email practices have collapsed under FBI scrutiny.

The agency's yearlong investigation found that she did not, as she claimed, turn over all her work-related messages for release. It found that her private email server did carry classified emails, also contrary to her past statements. And it made clear that Clinton used many devices to send and receive email despite her statements that she set up her email system so that she only needed to carry one.

FBI Director James Comey's announcement Tuesday that he will not refer criminal charges to the Justice Department against Clinton spared her from prosecution and a devastating political predicament. But it left much of her account in tatters and may have aggravated questions of trust swirling around her Democratic presidential candidacy.

A look at Clinton's claims since questions about her email practices as secretary of state surfaced and how they compare with facts established in the FBI probe:

CLINTON: "I did not email any classified material to anyone on my email. There is no classified material." News conference, March 2015.

THE FACTS: Actually, the FBI identified at least 113 emails that passed through Clinton's server and contained materials that were classified at the time they were sent, including some that were Top Secret less in their handling of very sensitive, highly classified information," he said.

CLINTON: "I never received nor sent any material that was marked classified." NBC interview, July 2016.

THE FACTS: Clinton has separately clung to her rationale that there were no classification markings on her emails that would have warned her and others not to transmit the sensitive material. But the private system did, in fact, handle emails that bore markings indicating they contained classified information, Comey said.

He said the marked emails were "a very small number." But that's not the only standard for judging how officials handle sensitive material, he added. "Even if information is not marked classified in an email, participants who know, or should know, that the subject matter is classified are still obligated to protect it."

CLINTON: "I responded right away and provided all my emails that could possibly be work related" to the State Department. News conference, March 2015.

THE FACTS: Not so, the FBI found.

breach, a less categorical statement than Clinton herself made last year, when she said there was no breach. The FBI did not uncover a breach but made clear that that possibility cannot be ruled out.

"We assess it is possible that hostile actors gained access to Secretary Clinton's personal email account," Comey said.

He said evidence would be hard to find because hackers are sophisticated and can cover their tracks. Comey said his investigators learned that Clinton's security lapses included using "her personal email extensively while outside the United States, including sending and receiving work-related emails in the territory of sophisticated adversaries." Comey also noted that hackers breached the email accounts of several outsiders who messaged with Clinton.

Comey did not mention names, but a Romanian hacker who called himself Guccifer accessed and later leaked emails from Sidney Blumenthal, an outside adviser to Clinton who regularly communicated with her.

CLINTON: "I opted for convenience to use my personal email account, which was allowed by the State Department." News conference, March 2015.

THE FACTS: Comey did not address Clinton's reason for using a private server instead of a government one, but he highlighted the perils in routing sensitive information through a home server.

The FBI found that Clinton's personal server was "not even supported by full-time security staff like those found at agencies and departments of the United States government or even with a commercial email service like Gmail," the director said.

Clinton turning over personal email server to feds

The Justice Department is investigating her use of a private server as a Cabinet member

BY KEN DILANIAN
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Hillary Clinton will turn over the personal email server she used while serving as secretary of state to the Justice Department, her campaign spokesman said Tuesday.

The decision advances the investigation into the Democratic presidential front-runner's use of a private email account as the nation's top diplomat, and whether classified information was stored improperly on her homebrew email server.

the server to a third party. Spokesman Nick Merrill said Clinton has "pledged to cooperate with the government's security inquiry, and if there are more questions, we will continue to address them."

Also Tuesday, Clinton gave to the Justice Department thumb drives containing copies of emails sent to and from her personal email addresses via that server.

Clinton's lawyer, David Kendall, gave three thumb drives containing copies of roughly 30,000 emails to the FBI after the agency determined he could not remain in possession of emails, according to a U.S. official briefed on the matter who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The State Department previously had said it was comfortable with Kendall keeping the emails at his Washington law office.

The FBI is looking into the security of the Clinton email arrangement. There is no evidence she used encryption to shield the emails or her personal server from foreign intelligence services or other prying eyes.

Word that Clinton had relented on giving up possession of the server, as Republican Sen. Chuck Grassley of Iowa said two emails that traversed Clinton's personal system were deemed "Top Secret, Sensitive Compartmented Information" — a rating that is among the government's highest classifications.

Grassley said the inspector general of the nation's intelligence community had reported the new details about the higher classification to Congress on Tuesday.

Those two emails were among four that had been determined by the inspector general of the intelligence community to have been classified at the time they were sent. The State Department disputes the emails were classified at that time.

U.S. support of gay rights in Africa hurts the cause

America's money and public diplomacy have opened conversations and opportunities in societies where the subject was taboo just a few years ago. But they have also made gay men and lesbians more visible — and more vulnerable to harassment and violence, people on both sides of the gay rights issue contend.

The U.S. campaign has stirred misgivings among many African activists, who say they must rely on the West's support despite often disagreeing with its strategies.

In Nigeria, Africa's most populous nation, the final passage of the 2014 law against homosexuality — which made same-sex relationships punishable by 14 years in prison and made it a crime to organize or participate in any type of gay meeting — is widely regarded by both supporters and opponents of gay rights as a reaction to U.S. pressure on Nigeria and other African nations to embrace gay rights.

"The Nigerian law was blowback," said Chidi Odinkalu, chairman of Nigeria's National Human Rights Commission and the senior legal officer for the Africa Program of the Open Society Justice Initiative, which supports gay rights on the continent. "You now have situations of gay men being molested on the streets or taunted. That was all avoidable."

"I've said to U.S. diplomats privately, as well — the risk is causing more harm than good," Odinkalu added. "You don't want an infusion of goodwill to actually do harm to the community that you think you're protecting."

Anti-gay sentiments are widespread across Africa. Same-sex relations remain illegal in most nations, the legacy of colonial laws that had been largely forgotten until the West's push to repeal them in recent years.

Four years ago, the U.S. government embarked on an ambitious campaign to expand civil rights for gay people overseas by marshaling its diplomats, directing its foreign aid and deploying President Obama to speak before hostile audiences.

Justice Cowed: How “obscene” were the videos Kozinski’s recused himself from the case over?

13 Jun

Filed Under Judge Alex Kozinski | Leave a Comment

With a one sentence explanation, one of the most respected judicial authorities on the First Amendment, Judge Alex Kozinski, removed himself from what will likely become a landmark obscenity case.

“In light of the public controversy surrounding my involvement in this case, I have concluded that there is a manifest necessity to declare a mistrial. I recuse myself from further participation in the case and will ask the chief judge of the district court to reassign it to another judge.”

Did Judge Kozinski need to be cowed into this decision? How necessary was this recusal? Our opinion, as previously described, is that the judge’s awareness of run-of-the-mill “viral humor” made him more likely to be an impartial magistrate than a judge too cloistered to have a practical sense of “contemporary community standards” even if the public perception of the whole website controversy might tend towards irrational umbrage.

How similar are the images discovered on the Kozinski family computer and images at issue in USA vs. Ira Isaacs? ☐ Judge for yourself ☐ USLaw.com has compiled several still images from the videos contained in Isaacs’ indictment. ☐ (WARNING: Extremely graphic.)

Judge halts obscenity trial

A newspaper report reveals his Web site contains explicit material, prompting his action.

By Scott Glover
Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES — A closely watched obscenity trial in federal court was suspended Wednesday after the judge acknowledged maintaining his own publicly accessible Web site featuring sexually explicit photos and videos.

Alex Kozinski, chief judge of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, granted a 48-hour stay in the obscenity trial of a Hollywood adult filmmaker after the prosecutor requested time to explore "a potential conflict of interest concerning the court having a ... sexually explicit Web site with similar material to what is on trial here."

In an interview Tuesday with the Los Angeles Times, Kozinski acknowledged posting sexual content on his Web site. He defended some of the adult content as "funny" but conceded that other postings were inappropriate.

Kozinski, 57, said he thought the site was for his private storage and that he was not aware the images could be seen by the public, although he also said he had shared some material on the site with friends. After the interview Tuesday evening, he blocked public access to the site.

Kozinski is one of the nation's highest-ranking judges and has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the U.S. Supreme Court. He was named chief judge of the 9th Circuit last year and is considered a judicial conservative on most issues.

Kozinski, who was appointed to the federal bench by President Reagan in 1985, has a reputation as a brilliant legal mind and is seen as a champion of the First Amendment right to freedom of speech and expression.

Sen. Dianne Feinstein, D-Calif., a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, expressed concern about Kozinski's Web site.

"If this is true, this is unacceptable behavior for a federal court judge," she said in a statement.

ALEX KOZINSKI

The chief judge of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said he thought the graphic material on his Web site couldn't be seen by the public. Public access was later blocked.

Stephen Gillers, a New York University law professor who specializes in legal ethics, and has known Kozinski for years, called him "a treasure of the federal judiciary." Gillers said he took the judge at his word that he did not know the site was publicly available. But he said Kozinski was "seriously negligent" in allowing it to be discovered.

After publication of an latimes.com article about his Web site Wednesday morning, the judge offered another explanation for how the material might have been posted to the site. On Tuesday evening, he had told the Times that he had a clear recollection of some of the most objectionable material and that he was responsible for placing it on the Web. By Wednesday afternoon, as controversy about the Web site spread, Kozinski was seeking to shift responsibility, at least in part, to his adult son, Yale. "Yale called and said he's pretty sure he uploaded a bunch of it," Kozinski wrote in an e-mail to Above the Law magazine, a legal news Web site. "I had no idea, but that sounds right because I sure don't remember putting some of that stuff there."

The judge told the Times it was strictly by chance that he wound up presiding over the trial of filmmaker Ira Isaacs in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles. Appellate judges occasionally hear criminal cases when they have free time on their calendars, and the Isaacs case was one of two he was given, the judge said.

Isaacs is on trial for distributing sexual fetish videos, featuring acts of bestiality and defecation. The material is considerably more vulgar than the content posted on Kozinski's Web site.

The judge said he didn't think any of the material he posted would qualify as obscene.

"Is it prurient? I don't know what to tell you," he said. "I think it's odd and interesting. It's part of life."

Justice Anthony Kennedy's Tolerance Is Seen in His Sacramento Roots

By SHERYL GAY STOLBERG JUNE 21, 2015

SACRAMENTO — In the fall of 1987, a package arrived on the desk of Laurence H. Tribe, a Harvard law professor who had just lost a Supreme Court case on gay rights. It contained the legal opinions of Anthony M. Kennedy, a strait-laced, conservative Republican jurist from Sacramento who hardly seemed sympathetic to that cause.

The package was sent by one of the most influential men in the California capital then, Gordon Schaber, a law school dean who had enlisted a young Mr. Kennedy to teach night classes and nurtured his career. Now Mr. Schaber was angling for President Ronald Reagan to elevate his friend to the Supreme Court — and he wanted the Harvard professor's support.

"Gordon Schaber said that Tony Kennedy was entirely comfortable with gay friends," said Professor Tribe, who later testified to urge the Senate to confirm Justice Kennedy. "He said he never regarded them as inferior in any way or as people who should be ostracized, and I did think that was a good signal of where he was on these matters."

Now, as the Supreme Court prepares to rule on whether to grant a constitutional right to same-sex marriage, Justice Kennedy, a onetime altar boy, has emerged as an unlikely gay rights icon. At 78, he has advanced legal equality for gays more than any other American jurist, making his friend Mr. Schaber, who died in 1997 — and who was, many who knew him believe, a closeted gay man — look prescient.

In 1976, he supported the firing of a federal employee for "homosexual conduct." In 1980, he affirmed the right of the Navy to dismiss gay sailors. In 1982, he upheld the deportation of an Australian man who was in a same-sex relationship with an American.

But the 1980 case, Beller v. Middendorf, contained an important caveat. In dense legal language, Judge Kennedy noted "substantial academic comment which argues that the choice to engage in homosexual conduct is a personal decision entitled, at least in some instances, to recognition as a fundamental right and to full protection as an aspect of the individual's right to privacy."

The language surprised Judge Stephen Reinhardt, a Ninth Circuit liberal who joined the court that year. "I always thought of Tony as someone who never really got out of Sacramento, who was very provincial," Judge Reinhardt said. "He was a very traditional, straight person, very moralistic."

Sometime in the 1980s, a gay couple moved a few doors down from the Kennedys in Land Park; Mr. Genshlea recalls their arrival as "not a big deal." Judge Kennedy took Mr. Meese and his wife to a housewarming party at the male couple's home, according to a 1987 article in The Los Angeles Times, which quoted a friend expressing the future justice's attitude: "If they can tolerate me, I can sure tolerate them."

When Justice Lewis Powell announced his retirement from the court in 1987, many in Sacramento thought Judge Kennedy was the obvious pick. Instead, Reagan nominated another federal appeals court judge, Robert H. Bork, an ultraconservative who was rejected by the Senate. A second candidate, Judge Douglas H. Ginsburg, withdrew amid controversy over past marijuana use. Judge Kennedy, viewed as conservative yet more likely than Judge Bork to win bipartisan support, was the third choice.

Mr. Meese, in an interview, said legal equality for gays was not discussed as an issue in the Kennedy evaluation. "That subject never came up," Mr. Meese said, "and there was nothing in his background one way or another."

When the Bork nomination imploded, Mr. Schaber and Professor Tribe — who had met then-Judge Kennedy while receiving an honorary doctorate from McGeorge — began talking. The previous year, Mr. Tribe had tried to persuade the Supreme Court to declare Georgia's ban on sodomy unconstitutional. He lost that case, Bowers v. Hardwick, 5 to 4.
